* Police forces rarely produce hit-and-run accident reports without suspects, witnesses and evidence, and since December 2018, the SAAQ has offered various options to citizens to prove that they have contacted a police force. The change in direction combined with the transition to the 9000 codes in the MIP explains the significant variation in our statistics for the year 2019. In fact, the move to the 9000 codes in the MIP has meant that several hit and run offences that were previously recorded under the Highway Safety Code are now recorded in the category associated with the Criminal Code. On the other hand, material hit-and-runs with no leads for investigation are no longer recorded.
